

Lead First Grade Teacher

North Davis Preparatory Academy (NDPA) seeks a Lead First Teacher in Layton, Utah. Duties: Instruct students in a dual language immersion setting at the elementary school level at a State charter school and International Spanish Academy (ISA) with an emphasis on Spanish language, arts, and culture. (1) Instruct students in subjects that are part of the core curriculum in Spanish and English using various teaching methods and pedagogy typically used by schools in Spain and the United States (60%); (2) adapt teaching methods, pedagogy, and instructional materials to meet students' varying needs and interests (10%); (3) establish and enforce rules for behavior and procedures for maintaining order among students (5%); (4) meet with parents and guardians to discuss their children's progress and to determine priorities for their children and their resource needs (5%); (5) observe and evaluate students' performance, behavior, social development, and physical health, and preparation for later grades (5%); (6) adapt and integrate the school's Spanish language curriculum for first grade, and organize the grade level program (10%); (7) support administration in communicating policy and procedure to other first grade teachers (3%); and (8) such other duties and responsibilities as assigned (2%). Requirements: (1) Master's degree in Elementary Education or related field; (2) 36 months of experience working as a teacher (elementary, secondary, or post-secondary) [Employer also considers a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education (or related field) plus 5 years of experience working as a teacher (elementary, secondary, or post-secondary) to be an acceptable alternative to the degree and experience requirement listed above. Employer will also accept a Bachelor's degree equivalent based on a combination of education and experience as determined by a professional credential evaluation service.]; (3) hold a valid Utah State Teaching License in Elementary Education (Level II or higher), or currently possess all qualifications to obtain such license within 90 days of the date of hire; (4) demonstrated ability to communicate fluently and effectively (oral and written) in Spanish; (5) demonstrated mastery-level knowledge of the teaching methods and pedagogy typically used in United States and Spanish schools; (6) demonstrated ability and willingness to implement and, as necessary, adapt the Spanish language curriculum at the elementary school level; and (7) demonstrated commitment to professional growth in education, teaching methods, and strategies. Send resumes to NDPA c/o Academica West, Attn: Priscilla Wadman, 290 N. Flint Street, Suite A, Kaysville, Utah 84037, or via email to priscilla@academicawest.com.